

Stacy Kostiuk; eighth grader at John Chavis Middle School

It's great to be here,
Surrounded by the books.
Libraries bring so much cheer
It's not always about the looks

Jobs are hard to find
But the library provides many.
Books to bind
And sources for Lenny.

Newspapers and computers
Provide sources.
Teachers and tutors,
they can take courses

My friends and I,
Find the library exciting.
We always hate to say goodbye
Even if we are tired of writing.

We can sit in YA
And read,
While our siblings play
And learn to lead.

I love it here,
I feel at home.
I feel no fear,
Free to roam.

So many books,
all at my disposal.
Read about the best cooks
And the perfect proposal.

I met my bestfriend there
My side she's been bye.
Cases like these aren't rare,
This is where Cassia met Ky.

The library is one of the last.
Places to meet people are shrinking,
They're a big part of the past, the location of a lot of winking.

Libraries are the key,
That is the bottom line.
They bring lots of glee,
Especially mine!